FEE PROTECTION INSURANCE:

Scheme options

We offer a flexible approach to delivering fee protection to your clients:

CLIENT PROTECTOR

Your practice acts as an insurance intermediary so your clients are insured. You will need to hold the relevant regulatory status (either direct authorisation from the FCA or a relevant DPB licence, plus the appropriate level of PI insurance).

PRACTICE PROTECTOR

Your practice is both the insured and the policyholder. Therefore, you offer your clients a tax investigations service rather than insurance, meaning you don't need to be a regulated intermediary.

ALL CLIENT

Covers all clients of the practice.

CLIENT DECIDE

Covers only those who opt into the scheme.

FEE PROTECTION INSURANCE:

Account management

Our dedicated account management and client services teams are on hand to support you. Your area sales manager (ASM) is your Markel point of contact for the whole of the year.

To maximise your scheme, your ASM will regularly review the take-up and provide proactive advice on all aspects of your scheme; from end-customer pricing to optimising your marketing strategy to communicate the benefits of your scheme clearly, concisely and professionally.

They will ensure you and your clients have access to Markel's full range of products – not just fee protection insurance. By working with you and your partners they will explore, develop and grow the range of services your practice can offer clients. Your ASM is an extension of your team and will help you identify opportunities to your clients to extract the maximum value from the services Markel Tax has to offer – this can be either under the Markel Tax name or via a white-label delivery.

One team

A single Markel Tax team offers extensive tax advisory expertise in the areas below.

Tailored support and expertise

Our team, comprising of more than 40 tax and funding specialists, is expert in providing effective tax solutions, empowering clients with the knowledge to make the right decisions. We're independent and here to work with you, not compete with you.

No conflict:

We work in partnership with our clients and will never compete for business.

Collaboration:

Stand-alone:

We can work on a stand-alone basis to deliver new or specialists service to your clients and develop your expertise in these areas.

R&D tax relief

The opportunity

Research and development (R&D) tax relief is often overlooked by UK companies and their advisers but can prove highly lucrative. Eligible companies can benefit from tax relief whether they're loss making or profitable. Depending on the tax position, the benefit is available either as a tax refund or as a reduction of future corporation tax liability

To qualify for R&D tax relief, a company must be:

Attempting to make an appreciable improvement to new or existing products, technology, processes or services, although this does not necessarily mean ground-breaking, innovative, or novel work. If companies are aiming to make their products or process cheaper, faster, smaller, or better in some way, then this may qualify as R&D.

Overcoming technological or scientific uncertainties or challenges, especially if the solution will not be immediately obvious to a qualified professional. The company may need to go through a "trial and error" process to achieve the required solution.

Markel Tax has a growing team of highly skilled in-house technical consultants with a blend of financially qualified CTA, ATT, ACA, alongside science and technology backgrounds, including PhD scientists, technologists and engineers covering many sectors. In addition, we are in the unique position in the market having direct access to over 25 in-house software engineers.

How can this benefit your clients?

We offer a free research and development tax credit health check where one of our specialist tax consultants will ascertain eligibility for an R&D tax claim through extensive desktop research. The results will be shared with your practice and will put you in full control of your client's R&D tax affairs, as you'll be in the position to proactively take these opportunities to them.

An R&D tax credit is worth up to 33% of qualifying expenditure and, on average, businesses receive a tax benefit of £57,330 per claim. We also look retrospectively as businesses have 24 months from the end of the relevant accounting period to secure their tax relief.

How can this benefit your practice?

By using an experienced R&D specialist like Markel Tax you can ensure that the technical application is robust enough to stand up against HMRC scrutiny. Ultimately, resulting in a happy client and protection for you if HMRC open an enquiry into a claim.

Clients increasingly expect advisors to maximise their tax savings as part of the service. R&D support will protect your client base and ensure you are offering a competitive all-round service. Markel Tax can work in partnership with you, either white labelled or as part of the team.

You can earn a referral fee on any claims undertaken by Markel Tax.*

Capital allowances

The opportunity

Over half of UK businesses do not claim their entitlement to capital allowances, which could be worth hundreds of thousands of pounds. Tax claims can be maximised by consulting with a Markel Tax specialist before incurring any expenditure on commercial property.

Capital allowances can be claimed when:

Expenditure is incurred on constructing, purchasing, fitting out, refurbishing or extending a commercial property.

Buying or selling a commercial property: the value of the capital allowances must be agreed upon as part of the contract otherwise the claim will be lost.

Typical properties that benefit from capital allowances include:

- Purchase of an office building – allowances available on initial investment plus further claim on any redevelopment costs
- Hotel acquisition and refurbishment, including serviced apartments
- Restaurants and entertainment venues
- Residential care homes, nurseries and holiday lets
- Student accommodations.

How can this benefit your clients?

Your clients could be claiming up to 19% of the eligible costs – with many claims being understated. Markel Tax can ensure that all claims, both future and past, are maximised and that all qualifying expenditure is correctly identified. To justify your claim, we prepare a full report of qualifying expenditures that will stand up to an HMRC audit.

How can this benefit your practice?

This provides accountants with an added service line, with the benefit of de-risking the likelihood of clients going to competitors or 'cold callers' who may not work on a referral or white-labelled basis.

You can earn a referral fee on any claim undertaken by Markel Tax.*

How do we work with you?

STEP 1

Complimentary due diligence to confirm entitlement and scope

STEP 2

A RICS-qualified surveyor will survey the property and carry out a detailed valuation

STEP 3

We provide a full report to the practice ready for submission to HMRC.

STEP 4

We liaise with HMRC to ensure acceptance of the claim

STEP 5

Aftercare – dedicated support for any subsequent questions or enquiries

Funding

The opportunity

Lack of funding can restrict and inhibit growth as companies operate in increasingly competitive markets. Markel Tax has a dedicated funding team that continually appraises available grants, loans, and other funds to source the most appropriate funding available for business. Typically, we secure over £15 million in grant funding for UK businesses per year. We have worked with 500+ manufacturing, technology and creative companies, which allow us to introduce experts from outside the business if needed.

How can this benefit your clients?

Clients will have an extensive range of grant funding available to them and the success criteria for winning is often complex. Engaging with a specialist team such as Markel Tax significantly increases the chance of a successful application.

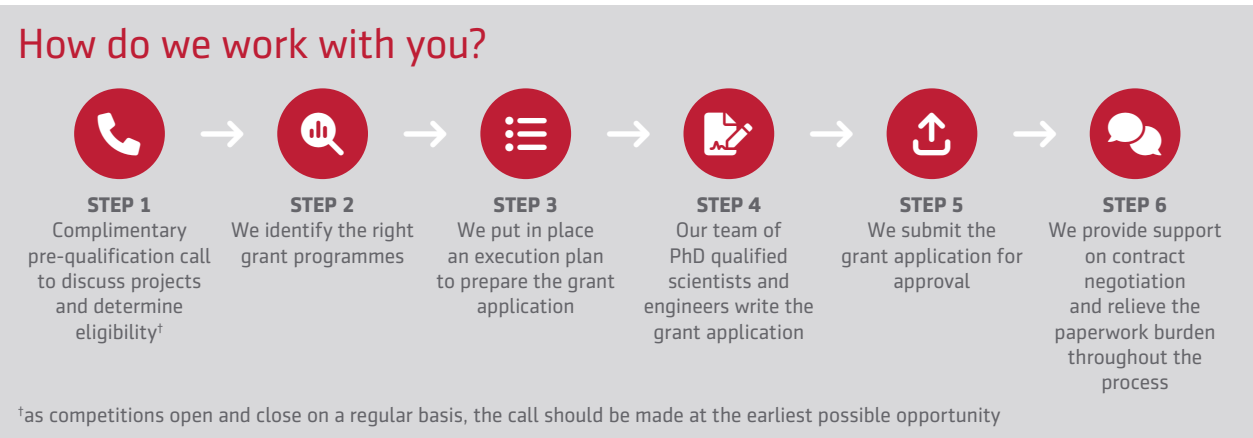

Our specialist team:

- Secures grant funding for both established businesses and innovative ‘early start’ companies
- Searches out the best grant for the business to ensure successful submission
- Doesn’t push businesses towards a grant that isn’t suitable for them

Typically, the grant equates to up to 100% of the project costs. Can this be beneficial for the practice?

Funding can be critical for a business – lack of funding can restrict and inhibit growth as companies continue to operate in increasingly competitive markets. By offering these funding opportunities, clients’ relationships strengthen as it facilitates them to grow their businesses. We work alongside experts in R&D tax credits meaning we can ensure businesses secure grant funding in a tax-efficient manner. Further to this, Markel Tax can work on a referral or white labelled basis.

You can earn a referral fee on any grant funding secured for your client by Markel Tax.*

Tax investigations

HMRC hold an unprecedented level of information on UK businesses and taxpayers and have invested heavily in compliance activity in order to collect additional tax revenues. Our team of ex HMRC inspectors has a combined experience of over 125 years and understands the inner workings of HMRC, meaning they can assist with every stage of an enquiry to mitigate the impact on those most affected.

We are immensely experienced in a number of specialist areas of HMRC's compliance activity such as: –

- HMRC compliance activity into individuals, partnerships and companies
- Code of Practice 9 enquiries (suspected serious tax fraud) including the Contractual Disclosure Facility (CDF)
- Code of Practice 8 enquiries such as tax planning and avoidance
- Disclosure facilities including the Worldwide Disclosure Facility (WDF), the Let Property Campaign (LPC) and any voluntary disclosures
- Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)
- Employer compliance activity including:
 - IR35
 - Status of workers
 - Benefits in Kind (BIK)
 - Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS)
 - National Minimum Wage (NMW)
 - Operation of Construction Industry Scheme (CIS)

Specialist Code of Practice 9 (COP) assistance

Investigations under COP9, for cases of suspected serious fraud, are one of the most serious forms of compliance activity carried out by HMRC, second only to a criminal investigation. From start to finish, we provide easy-to-understand advice on the options available when HMRC makes the offer of the CDF. We ensure the outline disclosure is complete and submitted on time and deal with all aspects of the follow-up work. We can support meetings with HMRC and prepare the detailed disclosure necessary. Our team will offer advice on making a voluntary disclosure in relation to any tax fraud committed where this is appropriate.

How can this benefit your clients?

Our team deal with investigations on a day-to-day basis meaning we have constant exposure to HMRCs latest tactics and compliance activity and tried and tested methods when approaching a case.

From practical advice and support, to taking on the case, our honest and straightforward approach can help to successfully resolve HMRC tax disputes and get the best outcome for your clients.

How can this benefit your practice?

Tax investigations can be stressful and demanding, not only for your clients, but for your practice, taking you away from your day-to-day business. We offer a complimentary initial discussion and assessment of the case to see how we can assist you and your client.

For any referral made which results in us formally engaging directly with your client, we will pay an introducer fee of 15% of the client fee.*

Contractor solutions

The opportunity

Contracting issues, self-employed status, IR35 and CIS can cause problems if not handled correctly. With our team of specialists, Markel Tax can ensure your clients remain fully compliant. We have over 20 years' experience defending HMRC disputes, and since being the first to win IR35 at Tribunal in 2002, we have successfully defended more contractors at Tribunal on IR35 status than any other UK consultancy. We are one of the UK's leading tax consultancy providers and an 'A'-rated insurer.

How can this benefit your clients?

We offer fully packaged end-to-end services – from a review of procedures, contracts, and working practices, to retained services offering ongoing day-to-day support and investigations, as well as offering insurance to protect against tax liability.

How can this benefit your practice?

We work with a number of accountancy practices providing niche tax consultancy and insurance products to their clients.

Our fees are fixed from the outset so there are no escalating charges, and we can review cases for a one-off fixed fee before full engagement.

Most cases handled by us are conceded by HMRC, however, where cases do go to Tribunal, we have a proven track record with the Market Tax consultant working on the case from the outset representing you. We won the first IR35 Tribunal case Lime IT v Justin (2002) SpC 342 and had many successful IR35, Status and CIS Tribunal victories since.

We are able to provide white-labelled solutions and/or offer our accountancy clients commission on referrals, typically up to 15%.*
